About us

There are many wines made from Yoichi grapes, but there is only one type of "Yoichi wine". We produce wine rooted in Yoichi by growing Yoichi grapes in Yoichi.

"Yoichi Wine", which has been loved by everyone since 1974, is ahead of the times. Frontier, whose criteria are "making honest wine without lies" and "visible Wine that farmers grow and cultivate grapes they can trust." Now, we have signed contracts with farmers in Yoshi as partners and are brewing real "Local wine" and strive to move forward.

"Yushi Wine" will continue to strive for excellence from the planting of high-quality grapes to manufacturing. In order to further pursue a unique "local wine", it does not rely on the uniqueness of nature. The friendly environment and traditional craftsmanship also convey its "deliciousness" to everyone.

YOICHI WINE How to drink better

Wine takes on different flavors when the temperature changes. Even if it is said that "red means normal temperature" and "white means iced", there are cases where it is too warm or too cold with ice.

We will use 5°C as a unit to introduce the appropriate temperature and refrigeration method for each type of wine.

How to Drink

Rich (dark red, brown red) red wine

ボディのしっかりした赤

Standard : 15 ~ 20°C

How to cool: Cool quickly in the refrigerator and drink,
Leave until the bottle feels cool.

Rich (golden yellow) white wine

しっかりした白

Standard : 10-15°C

Cooling method: put it in the refrigerator for a while,
Remove before cooling completely.

Light (rosy, light red) red wine

ロゼや軽めの赤

Standard : 5 ~ 10°C

Cooling method: place in the refrigerator to refrigerate,
Then let it sit at room temperature for a while.

Light (colorless, light yellow) white wine

甘めの白

Standard : around 5°C

Cooling method: Place in the refrigerator or cool with ice water.
